VOL. XIII. KNOXVILLE, TENN.: THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 14, 1882. NO. 86.

Yellow Fever.

NEW ORLEANS, September 12.—A Pensacola special says: "To-day 20 new cases and 3 deaths from yellow fever were reported. Total number of cases to date, 114; deaths 20.
Dr. Fortcham, of the board of health, and Superintendent Saltmarsh, of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, have been down two days with fever. They are reported to be doing well.

Maj. John O'Brien, city editor of the Commercial died last night.
The relief committee and board of health have on duty 100 nurses.
Everything possible is being done by the several aid associations to alleviate the misery and give food, medicine and a tention to the sick and destitute.
All the associations work harmoniously and are in accord with the board of health. A number of our absentmerchants and several persons in Mobile, New York and New Orleans have responded to the appeal for aid. The great number of unaccompanied persons here have been added to the fury of the disease. The most of these are laboring men whose working have been suspended, and are in needy circumstances. And for this reason there is greater need of nurses of experience, these people knowing as to the care required for yellow fever cases.

Failures.

NEW YORK, September 12.—Three failures were reported this afternoon at the Produce Exchange. Cecil Rawson, a large operator in lard and pork, was reported long of 20,000 barrels of lard. His pork was probably sold out in Chicago.
Richard Perrin, cheese dealer, was long of lard. His liabilities are small, and George Walburn, lard broker, was long of lard. His liabilities are small.

Richmond, Va., September 13.— Baldwin & Jenkins, wholesale shoe dealers, have assigned. No statement of assets or liabilities can be obtained, but it is declared their debts will be paid in full. The failure is attributed to outside speculations by the junior member of the firm.

Western Union Telegraph Company.

NEW YORK, September 13.—At the quarterly meeting of the Western Union Telegraph Company to-day, a dividend of one and a half per cent.
was declared for the current quarter, payable October 16. Dr. Norvin Green announced his retirement from the presidency at the end of his present term of office. Newspaper reports assign Gen. Thomas R. Eckert to the vacancy thus created.

Suspended Bank.

Inquiry to-day elicited the fact that Mr. Davis, late president of the suspended bank, was indebted to it over $375,000. A deed of trust was made this afternoon conveying to C.
E. Whitlock, trustee, the entire property of the Banking and Insurance Company, to be used in the liquidation of the company's liabilities. It is estimated that Davis owns property which will realize about $250,000.

Reduction of Rates on Cotton.

ATLANTA, September 13.—A meeting of members of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association was held here to-day and the rates on cotton to points north of Baltimore were reduced. The committee on recasting divisions failed to agree, and the matter was left to the general commissioner and dissatisfied members allowed to appeal to the board of arbitration.

On Trial for Murder.

DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 13.—The examination of witnesses in the case of John H. Johnston, mayor of the city, charged with the murder of John E. Hatcher, late of the police force, was concluded this evening, and the pleading will begin to-morrow. Johnston has been admitted to bail from day to day, since Monday, in a ten thousand dollar bond.

Another Circus Gone Up.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 13.— Maybury, Pullman & Hamilton's circus property was attached here last night by the constables for $6,000, and local attachments for unpaid bills were also served upon the proprietors of the show. A judgment for $6,462 exists in New York against the property.

Killed Over a Game of Billiards.

LYNCHBURG, Va., September 12.—A difficultly occurred at Wytheville today, between a man named Crockett and another named Hurt, about a game of billiards. Crockett shot and killed Hurt, and also seriously wounded a boy who was in the room at the time of the fracas.

Shot His Father.

LEWISTON, Ill., September 12.— James A. Arnett, a prominent farmer, quarrelled with his wife and son, Jacob, about his (Arnett's) scandalous relations with a young widow, and a scuffle was proceeding, when a young son, Cyrus, rushed in with a revolver and shot the elder Arnett fatally.

From the Proud Standpoint of superior "style," the languid city beauty surveys the imaginary physical shortcomings of her rustic female cousin. Yet if the latter possess a finer set of teeth, as she probably does, it is the SOZODONT, and the metropolitan belle does not, that striking contrast so much in her favor enables her to turn the tables with a vengeance. Pearly teeth are better than "style."

THE EGYPTIAN WAR.

ALEXANDRIA, September 13.—The Khedive received a telegram from Sultan Pasha, saying the British attack on Tel-el-Kebr commenced at 4.30 o'clock this morning.

LONDON, September 13.—A correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company at Alexandria, announces that Tel-el-Kebr was carried this morning. Forty guns and a large number of prisoners were captured.
The cavalry are in pursuit of Arabi, whose force appears to be quite broken up.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from the front, reports that the demoralization of Arabi's army is complete. His infantry are flying toward the desert.

LONDON, September 13.—The Exchange Telegraph Company has the following:

KASSASSI, September 13.—At the capture of Tel-el-Kebr the Egyptian loss is estimated at 2,000 men. Our loss is probably 200, including many officers. The Highland brigade bore the brunt of the action.

Reuter's Telegram Company has the following:

KASSASSI, September 13.—5.30 a. m.—The attack on Tel-el-Kebr began at 4.45 o'clock this morning.
The main attack was directed against the enemy's extreme left flank, four miles north of the railway. Heavy artillery and infantry fire is now proceeding. British troops are advancing rapidly, and are evidently turning the enemy's flank. The British armored train, with a forty-pounder Krupp gun, which was captured at Kassassin, and Gatings has just come into the action. The fire of the enemy opposite the extreme right of the British, is nearly silenced.

A dispatch to the Central News says:

"The Egyptians opened fire when the British were within about a mile of Tel-el-Kebr. The place appears to have been finally captured after a rush. The Indian cavalry are hotly pressing the fugitives on the south and the British cavalry on the north of the canal."

Another dispatch from the same correspondent, dated Kassassin, 10.38
a. m., says:

"The enemy's killed alone, amounts to 2,000. The retreat of the enemy on the north is out. The cavalry is still pursuing."

The lines in its second edition have the following:

ISMAILIA, September 13.—Tel-el-Kebr was carried this morning with a rush. The first shot was fired at 5 o'clock. The position was taken in twenty minutes, we having surprised the enemy by a night march. The enemy are in full retreat.

The North Carolina Division.

Maj. F. E. Huger, superintendent, and Maj. R. C. McCulla, constructing engineer, returned Tuesday night from their trip to the washed away bridge over the French Broad river, on the North Carolina division of the E. T. & G. Railroad, at Waverner's Bend, about 7 1/2 miles this side of Farm Springs. In two days longer the bridge at that point would have been taken out, and there would have been no danger from the freshet. Arrangements are made, as we learn, for a transfer by stage and dump from Wolf Creek to Warm Springs, and the freight and mixed train on the North Carolina division will continue its regular trips between Morristown and Wolf Creek.

Capt. Taylor Williams, who was conductor of the Warm Springs passenger train on that branch, which is now taken out, came down with the special that brought Major Huger. His train going up to Warm Springs was about thirty minutes late Sunday night, and he stopped at the river, before crossing, seeing the water a looked dangerous. He was in time to see the first timber of the bridge carried away. If he had been on time and crossed, he would either have been carried down, or would have been out with his train on the Warm Springs' side of the stream.

follows:

"Out of respect to the memory and funeral of Vice-President E. S. Sanford, of the Adams Express Company, close your office, with crane on the door, to-morrow, between 2 and 3 p. m."

Accordingly the door was closed and craned while the funeral of Mr. Sanford took place. His death occurred at Sharon Hill, Pa., last Saturday, as was announced by telegram.

tensive business thus placed in his hands will be universally recognized. His long and thorough acquaintance with the passenger business of a region embracing almost the same territory covered by the lines now under his control will be no small advantage in the successful management of the business of his new office."

Prof. McBryde at His New Home.

A correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier writes from Columbia, S. C., ander date of September 9th, as follows:

At a meeting of the faculty of the South Carolina University to-day, Professor J. M.
McBryde was unanimously elected chairman to hold and regulate the meeting of the board of trustees. This action is not only a recognition of personal fitness, but indicates the purpose of the faculty to give all possible prominence to the agricultural and other practical features of the University. Professor McBryde is a native of South Carolina and an old student of the College. Besides current professional ability, he is thoroughly a man of affairs. He has large experience, both as professor and as a visitor of the University of Virginia.
He is popular, prudent and progressive.
The faculty may congratulate the people of the State that the University is in safe and able hands.

Prof. McBryde is not simply "a book farmer." In 1885 he commenced farming and has been engaged constantly in agricultural pursuits up to the present time. In 1887 he removed from an adjoining county to Aberdeen, Virginia, one of the best farming sections in that State. The University of Virginia is situated in Albemarle County.
For a number of years Prof. McBryde was connected with an agricultural club, composed of upwards of one hundred of the best farmers of the country. The immediate neighborhood of an agricultural school, devoted to the attention of the society to the subject of agricultural education and the proper work and organization of the Agricultural College. McBryde was made a member of the club, and the club of trustees of the University of Virginia, and this school not being well attended, he was appointed by the trustees to visit and examine into the working of the various agricultural schools and colleges of the country. His report was submitted in 1879, and in 1879 he was elected to the chair of agriculture and botany in the University of Tennessee, at Knoxville. In this institution Prof. McBryde's labors were crowned with great success, and his department was raised to the highest efficiency. His hard practical sense, his fine executive ability, as this great energy, already fully tested, show the wisdom of the Faculty in the selection of a chairman.

At the meeting of the Faculty to-day a committee consisting of Professor Mc-Bryde, Dr. Joyce and Dr. Patton, was appointed to consider the question of discipline, the graduation of classes and schedule of recitations.

Taste, Alleviate and Cathartic.

Simmons Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is not unpleasant to the taste. It is the medicine generally used in the South to arouse the torpid liver to healthy action. It cures malaria, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, constipation and piles. The action of the Regulator is free from nausea or griping.
It is most effective in starting the secretions of the liver, causing the bile to act as a cathartic. When there is an excess of bile in the stomach, the Regulator is an active purger; after the removal of the bile, it will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system.

Is useless annoyance when the famous double-acting Red Jacket lift and force pump is at hand. Better than any fire insurance. For sale only at C. Kurth & Co's., opera-house building, Knoxville; also constantly keeps on hand a complete assortment of hose and packing, mill, factory and machinists' supplies. Special attention given to plumbing and pipe work in all its branches.
